Broken lift to be fixed at last

CONCOURSE bosses say work will start on Monday, October 24 to replace the broken lift which has been out of action for weeks.

Tenants and shoppers have been complaining in the Champion about the lift being out of operation but the management at the Concourse are now hoping to have the lift operational in time for the Christmas trading period.

Gary Mitchell, manager of the Concourse Shopping Centre, said work to replace the broken scenic lift is scheduled to begin by the end of the month.

He commented: "The lift, which has been out of service for a number weeks, will be operational in time for the Christmas trading period, which begins on November 18.

Investment

"A second phase of work will take place in January 2017, which will see the lift being out of action for a further fortnight as contractors install new workings and ensure that it is fully up to date and DDA compliant.

"This lift refurbishment is a big investment and it has been reviewed fully to ensure that it will service the new development and third floor cinema and food and beverage offerings.

"We understand how frustrating it has been for our valued customers over the past few weeks and we extend our apologies once again for the inconvenience. We're looking forward to a buoyant festive season and hope that the lift being in operation again will be a huge help to everyone."

FORMER SCHOOL SITE 'DANGEROUS' WARN POLICE

The entrance to the derelict Glenburn Sports College which has been targeted by vandals

Building 'extremely unsafe' after series of vandal attacks

Report by Henry James

SKELMERSDALE police have branded the former Glenburn Sports College building as 'extremely unsafe' following 'high amounts' of vandalism and anti-social behaviour at the site.

They are warning people not to enter the grounds of the school which only closed in July.

Skelmersdale North Councillor Neil Furey called the site a 'disgrace' and says it resembles a 'war zone.'

He said the site and buildings are insecure and vandals are able to enter the site 'at will' to cause damage and smash windows.

A police spokesman commented on the Skelmersdale Police Facebook page: "We have been inundated with calls regarding the high amounts of vandalism and anti-social behaviour being carried out on the old site of Glenburn Sports College.

"Due to these incidents, the buildings have now become extremely unsafe.

"We strongly advise everyone of the dangers of entering the site, and if they do so, they will be dealt with accordingly by Police."

Councillor Neil Furey commented: "The Glenburn Sports College site is a disgrace and resembles a war zone, with vandals being able to attack the building at will. The site and buildings are insecure and vandals have been able to gain access to cause damage and smash many of the windows.

"There appears to be no security on site and it's been left to Lancashire Police to deal with the vandals and anti-social behaviour.

Former district council chief executive awarded papal knighthood

Report by Henry James

THE former chief executive of the then West Lancashire District Council, John Cowdall, has been awarded a papal knighthood by Pope Francis in recognition of his service to the church and the wider community.

He was presented with the prestigious honour - formally Knight of St Gregory the Great - by the Archbishop of Liverpool, the Most Reverend Malcolm McMahon.

Mr Cowdall took up the post of chief executive with what was then West Lancashire District Council in 1973 and served until 1990, having previously been town clerk and chief executive of Clitheroe Borough Council for four years.

He was also appointed by the secretary of state as a governor of Edge Hill College of Higher Education (now Edge Hill University) in 1989 serving until 1992, and was also non-executive chairman of the Chorley Partnership between 1994 and 1997.

Among his many roles Mr Cowdall has also served as a trustee of the Archdiocese of Liverpool for the last 12 years; is secretary of the Historic Churches Committee for the Dioceses of Lancaster, Liverpool, Salford and Shrewsbury; and is a member of the Patrimony Committee for the Catholic Bishops Conference of England and Wales.

He is also chairman of Stonyhurst College, the Jesuit boarding and day school in the Ribble Valley, and a member of the Board of Regents of Liverpool Hope University, the only ecumenical Christian university in Europe.

The Order of St Gregory the Great was established by Pope Gregory XVI in 1831. It is conferred on people who are distinguished for personal character and reputation, and for notable accomplishment.

John Cowdall receives his Papal Knight of the Order of St Gregory the Great award from the Most Reverend Malcolm McMahon, Archbishop of Liverpool.

Whitemoss campaigners win right to challenge tip extension decision

Report by Henry James

CAMPAIGNERS opposing the Whitemoss hazardous waste tip extension in Skelmersdale have been granted permission for a judicial review.

The campaigners, made up of local residents, won the right to have a judicial appeal at the Court of Appeal against the Secretary of State's decision to allow the extension to go ahead.

Previously the residents' attempts to secure permission to bring the judicial review had been refused several times in various courts.

However, last Tuesday, October 4 the campaigners' legal team had the chance to explain their case more fully and were finally successful.

The judge, Lord Justice Lindblom, was a planning expert and showed a keen interest in the case.

Claire Robinson of campaign group ARROW (Action to Reduce and Recycle Our Waste), which is supporting fundraising for the residents, said: "We are delighted with this verdict and would like to thank the legal team and all those residents and employers who have helped us get this far.

"The main issue was that the planning policy says there is a need in principle for hazardous waste sites, but the residents' legal team argued that this did not mean that a developer could claim that there was a need for a site of any size in a specific location without proving that this specific site was needed.

"There was a question as to whether the Secretary of State was misreading the National Policy Statement for hazardous waste.

"The judge said that this case has implications for other nationally significant infrastructure projects elsewhere and needs to be heard in full because it could set an important precedent.

"The judge agreed with the legal team that the residents' case was arguable and gave him permission to proceed to a full judicial review."

ARROW campaigner Del Ellis said: "This is an important milestone, as it allows us to continue our challenge of this unwanted hazardous waste tip extension that is so close to people's homes and children's playing fields.

"However, we have not won the case yet. We will also continue to fundraise for the legal bills incurred so far."

The full judicial review is expected to be heard next spring in the Court of Appeal in front of three High Court judges.

West Lancs MP Rosie Cooper welcomed the decision. She said: "Finally Skelmersdale residents' voices of opposition to 20 more years of hazardous waste dumping will be heard.

David Cheetham of CPRE (Campaign for Protection of Rural England) – CPRE Lancashire has supported the case, and Del Ellis, Nicola Escott, and Claire Robinson from ARROW.

"Working with local campaigners opposing plans to extend the landfill site, I have witnessed their dogged persistence in continuing to oppose the awful decision.

"I am delighted with the decision to allow a judicial review as extending the Whitemoss site for 20 more unnecessary years was absolutely the wrong decision for residents and Skelmersdale, once again breaking the repeated promises to close the site.

"We now await the next hearing for the next round in the fight to stop this horrendous decision becoming a reality.

Skelmersdale county councillors Julie Gibson, John Fillis and Terry Aldridge also welcomed the ruling.

Councillor Gibson said: "We welcome the good news that the judge has granted the right to apply for judicial review of the decision by the Secretary of State."

The county council's primary concerns in relation to the proposed development were set out in its local impact report and related to the following the scale of development; the need for the proposed site; the potential health impacts arising from dust emissions; and the potential negative perception of Skelmersdale which would harm economic regeneration.

Cllr. Gibson continued: "We were disappointed when these concerns were dismissed by the Secretary of State but the judge clearly agreed that the need for the proposed site needed further examination.

"This is not the end of the road but it is clearly a significant step forward and we stand united with the local residents and the community of Skelmersdale to carry this fight on."

Rob Routledge, managing director of Whitemoss Landfill Ltd, commented: "The Secretary of State granted consent for the extension at Whitemoss in May 2015. The importance of this was that it will allow us to continue our important work in ensuring that brownfield sites can be brought back into use for much-needed homes and that by-products from recycling processes can be stored safely and securely.

"As a family-run company which employs local people, we provide an important role in the safe management of wastes. We are confident that the legal process will be successfully concluded soon.

"The judicial review is in relation to the Secretary of State's interpretation of the government's National Policy Statement and it would not be appropriate for us to comment any further."

Family grow concerned for whereabouts of missing teenager Sarah

POLICE are appealing for information to help them find a teenage girl who has gone missing from Skelmersdale.

Sarah Farrell, 17, was last seen four days ago on Friday, October 7 at around 3.15pm on Berry Street in the town.

She is thought to be in the company of an 18-year-old man and may be travelling across the region on buses.

There have been unconfirmed sightings of her in Wigan on Friday evening (October 7) and Southport on Sunday, October 9.

PC Ian Beattie from Skelmersdale Police said: "We are getting concerned for Sarah's welfare as she has been missing for a few days now and we want to get her home.

"We can't say for sure that the sightings in Wigan and Southport were definitely her but what we can say is that she has a bus pass and we think she is getting around on buses with the man she is with.

"If you have seen her or know of her whereabouts, please get in contact with us as soon as possible."

Sarah is described as white, 5ft 2ins, of stocky build with straight brown collar length hair. She was last seen wearing a black polo shirt, black trousers and black patent shoes. She speaks with a Liverpool accent as she hails from that area originally.

'This breaks my heart,' says former head of English

"As ward councillor for the area I'm shocked to see the state of this site and I'll be writing to Lancashire County Council to express my concerns. I will be calling for the site to be made more secure and that an urgent resolution is sought to deal with this matter."

Mark Lovelady who was a teacher at Glenburn for more than ten years wrote on Facebook: "It was a fine school that was truly at the heart of the community. I had the privilege of being head of English at Glenburn for five years - this breaks my heart."

Resident Nathan Devine added: "When it becomes a hazard to the public it will be bulldozed and sold to the highest bidder and a very lucrative deal will be made for one hell of a housing estate. The same thing happened to St Richard's primary in the town."

Eddie Sutton, head of development and corporate services for Lancashire County Council, told the Champion: "Glenburn Sports College, including all its land and buildings, transferred to the Glenburn Education Trust when it became a foundation school in 2010. The school closed earlier this year. The decision on the future ownership of this site is currently with the Secretary of State."

In August residents were annoyed that a £650,000 state-of-the-art 3G floodlit Astroturf 11-a-side pitch at Glenburn Sports College had closed. Firefighters also attended a suspected arson at the site last month.

DELIVERING RESULTS

Long-serving duo to step down

TWO long-serving officers of West Lancashire Borough Council are set to step down after clocking up a combined total of nearly 80 years years service in local government.

Bob Livermore, the council's director of housing and inclusion services, will retire in December after a career spanning 43 years, while Graham Concannon, director of street scene services, will leave the authority this month after 36 years service.

Graham began his career at the then West Lancashire District Council in 1980, working on sewer repairs before progressing through a number of different roles.

After gaining a degree and undergoing a range of training, he took over sole responsibility for the authority's street scene operation in 2003, managing a workforce of around 140 delivering the refuse and recycling service, grounds maintenance and street cleansing.

Under his leadership the service has been transformed with the introduction of wheelie bins throughout the area and alternate weekly collections for household waste and recycling.

He rates his greatest success as the massive increase in recycling in the borough - with recycling rates rocketing from just 6% in 2003 to almost 50% today.

Other major achievements have included the successful development of the £4m waste transfer station at the Robert Hodge Centre, Skelmersdale, which the council says has brought greater efficiencies and savings, and the introduction of a brand new fleet of vehicles under a leasing agreement.

Graham said: "When I started at West Lancs I was, quite literally, digging holes. West Lancs has been a fantastic council to work for, giving me opportunities to learn and develop and I have worked with an amazing team. The teams who work at the front-line are the unsung heroes of the borough and do a fantastic job."

Bob Livermore

Graham Concannon

Bob Livermore has spent all of his 43-year career in housing services within the public sector.

Starting out in 1973 at Haringey Council in London, he went on to work for local authorities all over the country before moving from North East Lincolnshire Council to join West Lancs in 2001.

At West Lancs he leads a team of 175 staff who manage more than 6,000 council houses, flats and bungalows. His department is also responsible for maintenance of council offices and other public buildings.

Looking back over his time at West Lancs, Bob highlights as a major achievement the £8m Firbeck Revival, completed just last month, which involved the refurbishment of many council properties and the construction of 42 brand new homes for rent.

Another major success was the £1.7m project to build 17 houses and bungalows at Elmstead in Skelmersdale, which when completed in 2011 were the first council homes built in West Lancashire for 15 years.

Bob, who is also a director of the Association of Retained Council Housing (ARCH), said: "I have mixed feelings about leaving. I'm sad to leave a great organisation, whilst at the same time I'm looking forward to spending more time with my family, particularly my grandchildren."

Crackdown launched to tackle anti-social behaviour ahead of Bonfire Night

Report by Henry James

A COMMUNITY Safety Partnership is once again planning to crack down on anti-social behaviour in the run-up to Mischief Night and Bonfire Night.

The annual multi-agency Bright Sparx Campaign aims to build on the success of previous years by reducing anti-social behaviour such as the misuse of fireworks, criminal damage and the number of anti-social fires started deliberately.

Partnership chairman, Dave Tilleray, said: "Our comprehensive action plan is an excellent way of tackling potential problems and dangers around the time of Mischief Night and Bonfire Night."

And Councillor Kevin Wright, West Lancs Council's portfolio holder for community safety, commented: "We know some members of the community feel a little nervous at this time of year, but the Bright Sparx action plan will help to keep our streets safe. The Community Safety Partnership provides excellent value for money as the council and its partners work together to tackle potential problems around this time."

In the run-up to Bonfire Night neighbourhood policing teams will be conducting visible patrols and will deal robustly with incidents of anti-social behaviour.

The council, police and fire service will also undertake a number of other initiatives, including:

- Visiting people who have been attacked in previous years and other vulnerable residents to provide reassurance and advice.
- Taking fireworks from children who are under age.
- Removing bonfires from unauthorised sites across the borough.
- Giving children information about activities organised by Lancashire Fire and Rescue Service and Lancashire County Council's wellbeing prevention and early help service during this period.
- Joint visits to schools from Lancashire Fire and Rescue and the police to warn children of the dangers of playing with fireworks.

Bonfire and Mischief night is known to go hand in hand with anti-social behaviour

- Community action and engagement events in Tanhouse, Moorside, Little Digmoor, Old Skelmersdale and the Scott Estate during this period will aim to help reduce crime by removing rubbish and materials that could be used for criminal damage or starting fires.

Advice will also be available on issues such as community safety and housing.

Meanwhile, skips will be available for local people to get rid of rubbish from 9.30am on the following days at these locations:

- Birch Green, on the car park on the right in Hallcroft, Thursday, October 20.
- Tanhouse, on the car park side of 2 Eskbank , Friday, October 21.
- Moorside, on the field facing the shop on Cherrycroft, Tuesday, October 25.
- Old Skelmersdale, on the car park on the left in Willow Hey, on Wednesday, October 26.
- Scott Estate, outside the shop on Scott Drive, Thursday, October 27.
- Little Digmoor, on the car park facing 110 Abbeywood, Friday, October 28.

Fire service staff will be on hand to take referrals for home fire safety advice and other organisations taking part include the police, trading standards and the community payback team.

The Community Safety Partnership has also received funding from the Lancashire police and crime commissioner to arrange fun activities aimed at young people on Sunday, October 30.

Other activities planned include the free Go4it Event at Skelmersdale Fire Station on Thursday and Friday, November 3 and 4 between 5 and 8pm.

West Lancashire Police Inspector June Chessell said: "As in previous years the police will work with partners to minimise crime and anti-social behaviour associated with Mischief Night, Halloween and Bonfire Night. We will have dedicated staff out across the borough for this crucial period."

Students embark on Duke of Edinburgh expedition challenge

FOUR BRONZE and seven Silver Duke of Edinburgh (DofE) candidates from the Maharishi Free School in Skelmersdale recently set out on a gruelling expedition.

This is the first time the students have progressed to do the more challenging Silver Award which has become a regular part of the School's extracurricular programme.

In order to successfully complete the expedition requirements, every student learns to be accomplished at route planning, navigation, compass reading and outdoor cooking and camping.

They have to carry everything they need throughout the expedition (the rucksack can be up to 25% of their own body weight) and very importantly they have to work together as a group and look after their teammates.

The first practice was locally based at the Tawd Vale scout camp. The next qualifying one will be around Clitheroe in the Forest of Bowland and along the Ribble Valley.

Another feature of these expeditions is that it promotes fitness and allows children, often brought up in towns and suburban areas, to really enjoy being out in the countryside and become comfortable and self-sufficient in that environment.

As well as expeditions, each child has to complete a six months and three months respectively programme of a sport, volunteering activities and learning a new skill of their choice all outside school, showing commitment and perseverance.

Having a DofE award looks very good on any student's CV but they also added: "Doing my Silver DofE makes me stretch myself and test my capabilities, dedication and skills. I really enjoy working as a team with my friends on the expeditions and becoming more of a leader.

"I really enjoy doing DofE because it keeps me active. One of the reasons I wanted to do this is because it gives you good life skills."

Council want residents to help them decide how best to spend levy funds

WEST LANCS residents are once again being given the chance to have a say on how the borough council should spend money raised from the Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL).

The levy allows the authority to raise funds from developers undertaking new building projects in the borough.

This money must then be used to pay for a wide range of infrastructure needed to support new development in West Lancs. This can include open spaces, parks, play areas, outdoor sports facilities, playing pitches, cycle paths, footpaths, and community facilities.

Now the council wants to know your views on how the money it will have collected by the end of March, 2017 should be spent in the next year.

Stanley Coronation Park in Skelmersdale

A short list of ' suitable' projects has been drawn up from a much larger list of more than 100 potential schemes.

Then list includes suggested improvements to the play area at Stanley Coronation Park, Skelmersdale.

The council aims to gauge residents' support for these projects and is also asking them to say why any other listed projects should be considered for funding in 2017/18; or even suggest their own ideas for suitable projects.

They can also comment on whether the council should spend the available money on some, or all, of these projects or save the CIL money to build a bigger pot for larger schemes in future years.

Councillor John Hodson, the council's portfolio holder for development and regeneration, said: "CIL funding can help make some exciting projects a reality and we want to hear what the public thinks so please take part in this consultation. Last year the comments we received helped decide what we spent the money on so it's important that you get involved.

"CIL shows how the council provides great value for money as it uses the funds raised through the levy for the benefit of West Lancashire people."

You can send your comments to the council between Thursday, October 6 and Friday, November 4. For more information visit www.westlancs.gov.uk/CFP.

Ant-fracking campaigners at the demonstration at the weekend in Blackpool

Maureen Mills and Carol Young from Halsall Against Fracking at the demonstration

We'll fight to stop fracking in Lancs, say campaigners

CAMPAIGNERS have vowed to continue their fight to stop fracking in Lancashire - despite a government decision to allow the controversial process to continue.

By Danielle Thompson

In a landmark ruling last week, Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government, Sajid Javid, gave permission for fracking to go ahead at a site near Little Plumpton.

The Minister upheld an appeal by gas and oil company Cuadrilla against Lancashire County Council's decision last year to refuse permission for the company to frack at the site and another at Roseacre Wood, on the grounds of noise and traffic impact.

The decision could impact on sites in West Lancashire where Aurora have a licence to explore for shale gas.

West Lancs MP Rosie Cooper joined local anti-fracking campaigners and the county council's cabinet member for environment, planning and cultural services in blasting the decision, described as "showing complete and utter contempt" for the views of residents and representing "the death of localism."

However, Cuadrilla chief executive, Francis Egan, welcomed the government's decision. He said: "We are very pleased that we can now move ahead with our shale gas exploration plans which will start to create new economic growth opportunities and jobs for people in Lancashire and the UK.

"We are confident that our operations will be safe and responsible and the comprehensive site monitoring programme planned by regulators and independent academics will in due course conclusively demonstrate this."

However, Rosie Cooper told the Champion: "Lancashire county councillors took a brave and ultimately correct decision on refusing permission for fracking exploration. The decision by the communities secretary show complete and utter contempt for local decision-making and the will of local residents here in Lancashire.

"He has put big business interests ahead of residents' interests. No attempt at bribing residents with inducements of community benefits will reassure them this decision is the right one. Business interests have overridden substantial environmental damage or threats to resident's safety.

"Sajid Javid's decision on fracking has killed off localism once and for all."

County Councillor Marcus Johnstone added: "This was one of the biggest planning applications ever put before any council – literally tens of thousands of people responded to the consultation processes, and the applications involved substantial levels of technical detail.

"Our development control committee carefully considered many hours of evidence both for and against the proposal, and ultimately cast their vote based on the evidence they heard and whether they thought the proposal was acceptable in planning terms.

"A local council, made up of councillors democratically elected by local people, and charged with serving their interests, is exactly the right body to make decisions on local matters. It is clear that the government supports the development of a shale gas industry, but I would ask them to do more to address the concerns of local communities and the councillors who represent them."

Band launch first record!

A BAND from Skelmersdale celebrated the launch of their first record with a gig at the Buffs on Saturday night.

Big Bambora's first EP is called First Wave and is now available from iTunes and Spotify.

First Wave was recorded at the Music Projects in Pemberton, Wigan and was produced by John Kettle. It has six tracks which are: Sick and Tired, Dog Eat Dog, Tamed, The Big Bambora, Rat Race and Buzzin. Everyone in the band had a hand in writing the EP.

The band describe themselves as indie/pop and they are: Joseph Kirkbride (the lead singer), Neil Faulkner (bass player), Alex Wormald (the lead guitarist), Billy Nixon (on backing vocals and rhythm guitar) and Felix Roe (drummer).

The lads are all from Skelmersdale and they have a variety of professions including: drum teacher, electrician and a graphics designer. They are managed by Ian Taylor. Joseph used to be in The Endeavours, another Skelmersdale band.

The band has already had their music played on BBC Radio Merseyside and Radio Lancashire.

This week they are taking part in the semi final of a competition during Indie Week at the Retro Bar in Manchester, which if they win will allow them to headline a festival in Toronto and go on an all inclusive tour. The final will be held this weekend.

The band will also be playing at the Camp and Furnace in Liverpool on Friday, October 21 as a support headline.

Neil Faulkner said: "This month has been a busy time for the band.

"Thank you to the support from the locals. We have done some good gigs, and are slowly moving up the ladder. It would be great if we won the competition in Manchester, it would be an amazing opportunity."

Skem warehouse scheme is ideal location for freight group

FREIGHT forwarding and warehousing specialists UKI Express Transport Ltd. have taken 100,427 sq ft at Orbit Developments' distribution warehouse scheme, M58 Skelmersdale.

The company carry more than 1,500 separate consignments per day through the UK via road, air and ocean so location was key when searching for a new distribution centre.

Commenting on the decision behind the relocation, Peter Gummerson, managing director at UKI Express Transport, said: "This move was imperative for our continued growth and in order to support our large portfolio of clients who currently ship in excess of 190,000 tonnes per year in to and around the United Kingdom.

"We believe due to the building's location and the quality of the facility, we can remain competitive and still offer more of our high-quality services to new and existing clients."

The new warehousing facility is situated off the M58 and close to the M6 meaning it is ideally located for accessing the ports in Liverpool, motorway connections and Liverpool and Manchester airports for international shipping requirements.

The scheme is owned by property landlord Orbit Developments with retained joint commercial property agents CBRE and Knight Frank.

Orbit Developments' divisional director for Merseyside, Dennis Dwyer commented: "This is a significant letting for the site and demonstrates that the commercial market for units of this size is alive and kicking. Skelmersdale has an enviable location for logistics operators with its location so close to the M6 and the national motorway network."

Men-Aces geared up for new season - thanks to Rotary Club

THE Skem Men-Aces disability football club are all geared up for their new training regime - with a little help from their friends at Ormskirk Clocktower Rotary Club.

The rotary club has generously provided the Men-Aces with some much-needed training equipment to give the team a welcome boost as they prepare for another award-winning season ahead.

Mim Eaton, one of the Men-Aces coaches, said: "Our friends at the rotary club have really come up trumps with this donation which will give the lads a flying start.

"We had much of our training gear was stolen two years ago and haven't been able to replace it so when the rotary club's president Steve Caldecott and secretary Jo Hooker came down to a training session with the new equipment it was like Christmas had come early!

"It's been a busy year for the Men-Aces so this gift was gratefully received.

"We would like to take this opportunity to thank the Ormskirk Clocktower Rotary Club and hope to make them proud in our new season and year ahead."

Snowdon fundraising feat is child's play for Jungle team!

The Jungle team on top of Mount Snowdon

STAFF at a Skelmersdale children's play centre put their best feet forward to raise money for a worthy cause.

The team from The Jungle soft play and party centre in Westgate chose Ronald McDonald House at Alder Hey Children's Hospital as their charity of the year and decided to climb Mount Snowdon to raise money.

Taking the Ranger Path, the 14-strong group, made up of staff, friends and family, completed the near eight-mile walk and 3,500 foot climb to the summit in around three hours - even though for some it was the first time they had tackled such a challenge.

Sarah Lott, owner of The Jungle and one of the 14 walkers, commented: "Ronald McDonald House is an amazing charity that provides a home from home for parents who have sick children at Alder Hey.

"The accommodation and other facilities at the house mean that parents can be close to their child throughout their stay in hospital making the whole experience much less stressful.

"Many of our team and customers have used the facilities at the house so we felt it was a great charity which we would all work hard to support.

"When it was decided that we should walk up Snowdon as one of our fundraising efforts I was more than a little apprehensive as I'd never done anything quite so ambitious.

"But the whole team completed the challenge and have said what an amazing experience it was.

"We are proud of our achievement as few of us had ever walked so far or so high. But we worked together and had a fantastic time.

"The sun was shining and the views were amazing - and the icing on the cake was raising more than £1,000 for Ronald McDonald House."

WEST LANCASHIRE BOROUGH COUNCIL

How do you think we should spend CIL monies?

West Lancashire Borough Council want to know your views on how the money we are collecting from new development through the Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL) should be spent in 2017/18. The money we collect must be used to improve infrastructure such as parks, play areas, outdoor sports facilities, cycle paths, transport projects and community facilities which are needed to support NEW development in the Borough.

We have put forward four options on how we might spend the money, including a shortlist of projects that the money might be spent on. These projects involve improvements to the canal towpath in Burscough; improvements to the play area at Stanley Coronation Park, Skelmersdale; new changing facilities at Whittle Drive playing fields, Ormskirk and; improvements to cycle/footpaths at Cheshire Lines, Great Altcar / Downholland. The options include spending the available money on some, or all, of these projects or saving the CIL money to build a bigger pot for larger schemes in future years.

We want to know your views on how this money should be spent.

- Which option should we follow?
- Do you agree with the projects we've shortlisted?
- Are there any other projects we should consider?

Send us your comments between Thursday 6 October and Friday 4 November 2016.

To read the documents and give us your views visit www.westlancs.gov.uk/CFP or drop into your local library or WLBC Council Office (Ormskirk) / Customer Service Point (Skelmersdale)

Health commission seeks public's view on proposed new healthcare policy

Report by Henry James

THE NHS West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) is proposing to create a new policy to allow patients with ongoing health needs to choose their own care package.

Along with other CCGs in Lancashire, the West Lancs group has drafted the policy with the aim of ensuring that continuing healthcare is managed in a fair, and transparent way, while at the same time ensuring that the process and the decisions make the best use of the available money and health service resources.

NHS Continuing Healthcare is the name given to a package of care which is arranged and funded solely by the NHS for individuals outside of hospital who have ongoing health care needs.

An individual can receive NHS Continuing Healthcare in any setting, including their own home, in a care home, or specialist placement. NHS Continuing Healthcare is fully funded by the NHS, unlike support provided by local authorities for which a financial charge may be made depending on your income and savings.

Mike Maguire, chief officer at NHS West Lancashire CCG

If an individual is found to be eligible for NHS Continuing Healthcare and wishes to be cared for in their own home, this means that the NHS will pay for healthcare (e.g. services from a community nurse or specialist therapist) and associated social care needs (e.g. personal care and domestic tasks, help with bathing, dressing).

In a nursing or care home, the NHS also pays for care home fees, including board and accommodation.

Mike Maguire, chief officer at NHS West Lancashire CCG, said: "This is a brand new policy and as such we wish to know what people think about it.

"As the demand for NHS Continuing Healthcare has increased, it is clear that we need to ensure that we are consistent, fair, open and transparent about how we make our decisions around continuing healthcare.

"Equally, it is important that we create a policy that has been considered by patients and the public, and that they have a chance to help us to improve it."

West Lancs residents have until Friday, October 21 to share their views on the draft policy.

You can share your views by email at myview@westlancashireccg.nhs.uk with 'Continuing Healthcare Policy' in the subject heading, or write to NHS West Lancashire CCG, Hilldale, Wigan Road, Ormskirk, L39 2JW or call 01695 588 000.

Sheltered housing unit residents raise £1,000 for cancer charity

RESIDENTS of a sheltered housing unit in Skelmersdale have made a 'grand' gesture on behalf of a national cancer charity.

Evenwood Court in Tanhouse held a fundraising event as part of Macmillan Cancer Support's annual 'World's Biggest Coffee Morning' promotion.

As well as coffee and cakes, the event featured raffles and the sale of homemade jams.

A spokesperson for the home in Tanhouse said: "The residents were very proud to raise the funds and we would like to want to thank the Concourse and Ashurst shops for all their donations."

Evenwood Court manager Nick Farley and residents who raised £1,000 (with help from Concourse and Ashurst businesses) in aid of Macmillan's World's Biggest Coffee Morning.

Respiratory event held to tackle town's high level of residents with breathing problems

Report by Henry James

THE NHS West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group held a free respiratory event in Skelmersdale aimed at reducing the town's high levels of people with breathing problems.

The two-day event, staged at the Concourse shopping centre, invited anyone interested in finding out more about breathlessness to go along.

People from across the region attended to find out the potential health warnings that breathlessness could indicate, where to access help and support, and what people could do to help with their health and wellbeing, such as giving up smoking and becoming more active.

Skelmersdale has a higher prevalence of Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD) and higher hospital admissions for COPD than all other areas of West Lancashire, with an estimated 20 per cent of residents living with undiagnosed COPD.

Over the course of the two days, the medical experts on hand, including representatives from NHS West Lancashire CCG, Well Skelmersdale and Smoking Cessation, offered advice, support and simple lung function tests, which highlighted the 'lung age' of residents.

These produced some shocking results for many of the smokers in attendance – with the oldest lung age recorded at 141!

Claire Heneghan

Many of the attendees who were smokers, were also unaware of the significantly increased risk of both lung cancer and COPD due to smoking.

The subject of breathlessness and its link to a number of health conditions including COPD, heart disease and lung cancer, has been prominent over recent months with both Public Health England ('Be Clear on Cancer') and the British Lung Foundation ('Listen to your Lungs') running separate national campaigns.

In the UK it is estimated that 1.2m people live with a diagnosis of COPD, making it the second largest diagnosed lung disease after asthma. However, research indicates that around two thirds of people are living with undiagnosed COPD.

Sandra Bonner, a specialist respiratory nurse at NHS West Lancashire CCG, who was on hand to speak to residents over the two days, said: "A significant number of people who attended were smokers, many of whom were shocked to find out just how much damage this was causing to their health.

Support

"Hopefully they left our event with the support that they needed to make the necessary changes to improve their lives."

Claire Heneghan, chief nurse at West Lancashire CCG and respiratory health lead for Well Skelmersdale, added: "With such large numbers coming through the doors over the two days, it was clear that many people are not aware of and accessing the services that are readily available to them.

"As a result we plan to continue running regular events in Skelmersdale which will focus on respiratory health.

"However, as we get into the winter, we will also offer support, advice and guidance on other key health issues, such as accessing free flu vaccinations and staying well over the winter months."

Man (20) denies animal cruelty offence

A SKELMERSDALE man has pleaded not guilty to a charge of animal cruelty.

Ryan Edwards, 20, of Birleywood, but formerly of Slackeys Lane, Southport, appeared via video link from HMP Altcourse at Sefton Magistrates Court on Tuesday, October 4.

He is charged with causing unnecessary suffering to a protected animal. He is alleged to have picked up a Staffordshire bull terrier and thrown it against a wall at an address in Southport on November 6 of last year.

Edwards denied the offence and will stand for trial at the same court on October 27.

Mobile breast cancer screening unit to visit Ormskirk Hospital

Report by Danielle Thompson

AS part of Breast Cancer Awareness Month, West Lancs residents are being invited to attend a free screening event to be held in the grounds of Ormskirk Hospital, on Thursday, October 20.

A special breast screening van will be at the hospital in Wigan Road from 9am to 4pm and local residents are welcome to go along and find out more about the screening process, have a look around and ask any questions they may have.

Women between 50 and 70 years of age are invited to a breast screening appointment every three years.

Carol McCabrey, senior service redesign manager at NHS West Lancashire Clinicial Commissioning Group, said: "We organised for this screening van open day to be available following some conversations we had with local women last year.

"Our findings suggested that there was a reservation to attend appointments as individuals did not feel clear on what to expect. This open day is therefore particularly important to those who have concerns around their invitation to be screened and what is involved."

Appointments are not required to attend the breast screening van, anyone interested in speaking to experts and learning more is encouraged to simply turn up on the day.

Breast cancer is the most common cancer in women in the UK, with one in eight women developing it in their lifetime and a small number of men also being diagnosed.

West Lancs residents are being invited to go along to a free breast cancer screening event in the grounds of Ormskirk Hospital

Majority of Edge Hill students treat the town and residents with utmost respect

IN response to the correspondent last week who claimed that university policy will ensure the big problem of student hooliganism will continue, I would like to say, as a student of the university, this is simply not true.

First and foremost, there are thousands of students at Edge Hill and the so-called hooligans are only a very small minority.

This small minority do not only cause problems for Ormskirk residents, but the university itself and the students in the majority who wish to live and study in Ormskirk and who do treat the locals with the utmost respect.

To assume all students are like the small minority is ignorant and downright offensive and I would like to remind everybody that students coming to live and study in Ormskirk provide the market town with incredible benefits, for example the increased revenue for small businesses as a result of students.

Feedback appreciated

Furthermore, it was claimed that the university does not care about the problems caused by the small minority as their only priority is to "get as many bums on seats as possible" and create a "bigger bank balance and higher salaries for executives and lectures".

This, I assure everybody, is not true and if any member of the public has any ideas of how to combat the problem of hooliganism caused by a very small minority of students, I am sure the university would not only appreciate the feedback, but would actively encourage you to tell them.

It is a problem the university does indeed care about and wants to tackle, for the sake of themselves, the vast majority of students who come to study and respect the Ormskirk locals, and more importantly, the Ormskirk locals themselves.

Connor Cain,
Edge Hill University student

The moaners don't have an exclusive right to live here

I READ with interest the ongoing articles in your paper and letters page about proposed building of new homes in our district. Why is it that so many residents are social phobics?

George Clandon last week was moaning about homes to be built on Yew Tree Farm - what's the problem? Would people prefer to have it remain a derelict site?

Others in Aughton are moaning about developments in Parrs Lane - why? Will it spoil someone's view across open land? Oh, what a pity!

The moaners need to understand that they don't have an exclusive right to live in these areas.

Our councillors who are appealing the decision to allow building in Parrs Lane are equally culpable too and need to see sense.

We need new families in our area living in a mix of new and affordable homes. We need new residents to pay council tax to support our local services and infrastructure.

Basically these moaners need to shut up and if they don't like to live around other people then simply move away and allow more socially acceptable people to move into their homes!

I welcome people to our wonderful area, the more the better!

Mrs J Williams, Aughton

● Editor's note: In the letter by George Clandon last week (October 5), the figure for the eventual number of homes on the Yew Tree Farm project in Burscough should have read 1,000 NOT 100. This was due to a typographical error on our part for which we apologise.

Mystery of the Aughton morning truck convoy

I LIVE on Long Lane in Aughton and every day from around 7.30am for around an hour trucks go past my home filled with topsoil.

There are loads – at least eight wagons go past each morning and they are all from different firms. By about 8.30am they have stopped but where do they go and what are they doing? I am really intrigued to find out what is happening.

Intrigued resident, Aughton

I LIVE in Aughton and have written to you before about the busy traffic up and down Long Lane.

As well as this, traffic for the past three weeks every morning has had lorries going down the lane full of top soil at least 10 to 12 of these are trucks. I am wondering if anyone can inform me as to where they are going. They start just after 1.30am and go on until after 9am.

Rena Sixsmith, Aughton

Touched by honesty

I WOULD like, through the Champion Letters page, to express my sincere thanks to the kind and honest person who found the £50 cash that I had left in the cash machine at Tesco, Burscough on Saturday, October 1.

This person could have taken it, but instead handed it in to Tesco staff. How wonderful to find such honesty and selflessness in this day and age. Thank you so much,

Diane McMahon, by email

Time for community to take a lead on litter

THIS is an open letter to the residents of Aughton and Ormskirk.

As a regular walker of the roads around west Lancs it has become clear in recent years that the amount of litter in the area is getting significantly worse.

We can all point accusing fingers at motorists, kids, council bin collections etc., but the fact is that it is getting worse.

I know that there are a few residents in Aughton who regularly take it upon themselves to pick up the array of bottles, cans, chip wrappers, crisp packets and the like that present such a local eyesore, but frankly unless many more people do their bit (and this is a few minutes a week) to collect and bag litter adjacent to their property then it is an uphill task.

Personally I cannot understand why somebody who lives in an area would never make an effort. I see examples of nice houses where rubbish is stuffed under their hedge and obviously hasn't been touched for months.

I am sure that they wouldn't let their own garden get like this so why allow it to happen outside their house?

So, come on fellow residents, let's make an effort. If the council won't or can't help then how about a bit of community spirit?

Littered of Aughton,

Family suffering from changes to travel services

WE must not be the only parents suffering from the cost-saving in Lancashire County Council travel care services. We have a special needs son who uses the service every day, but since September 1st the new pick-up and drop-off times are not working,

He used to be picked up at 9am each morning with a regular driver and escort, now it's any time from 9.45 to 10.30am with a different crew.

The drop-off time used to be 4.30pm, now it's any time between 5.10pm to 6.15pm.

The delays are all somebody else's fault. I could write a book on excuses.

These changes mean that our son is sitting around each morning waiting and the evening is worse as my wife can not set a time to have the evening meal ready.

My son's routine, which is more important, is so disruptive, it's upsetting him, (as you may know, most people with special needs need regular routine).

We were told that the changes would settle down in a week or so. It's all down to cost-saving by reducing the number of buses and staff, the clients are last on their thoughts. There must be other families suffering just like us.

Jake becomes 24,000th baby to pass through hospital hearing clinic

Report by Ollie Cowan

THE Southport and Ormskirk NHS hospital Trust's newborn hearing screening team based at Ormskirk Hospital this week saw its 24,000th patient, two-day-old Jake Owen from Southport.

Around 80 per cent of newborns are screened prior to leaving hospital and the remainder within four to five weeks of birth.

Mark Billing, manager of the seven-strong screning team, said: "We offer this service every day of the year, even on Christmas Day and Boxing Day. We screen more than 2,500 babies each year to identify those at risk of hearing loss.

"Jake is our 24,000th baby and we are happy to report that he has passed his hearing screen."

A hand-held device is used for screening and a small soft tip is placed in the baby's ear canal. The device detects echoes in the ear. The essential procedure only takes a few minutes.

The NHS newborn hearing screening programme (NHSP) aims to identify moderate, severe and profound deafness and hearing impairment in newborn babies.

It offers all parents in England the opportunity to have their baby's hearing tested shortly after birth.

Early identification of hearing impairment gives children a better chance of developing speech and language skills, and of making the most of social and emotional interaction from an early age.

Approximately, one or two babies out of 1,000 may be found to have a permanent, childhood hearing impairment.

Mark added: "We are here to detect if there is a problem with hearing and identify it as soon as possible. That means the baby and family can be directed to support services.

"A baby as young as one-month-old could have hearing aids fitted which will greatly improve the hearing. Problems would arise if the baby's hearing wasn't assessed and left for a period of months."

Louise Near, Lynda Shields, Sam Baker and Sarah Carr work as hearing screeners.

Louise said: "We enjoy this job and families of newborns are very happy to see us visit. They like to know if something as important as hearing is getting screened in those early first hours of life."

Lynda Shields said: "It is a lovely job. We get all the smiles from families as they have just welcomed a new baby into the world."

Sam Baker added: "Although problems are very rare, it is good to detect when a baby's hearing isn't quite right. Because there is the time to assess the problem and we can direct the family to the most appropriate support services."

Adult audiology tests take place at Southport Hospital. In total audiology has 23 members of staff with more than 200 years of experience between them.

Last year they performed 6,000 hearing tests, 3,500 hearing screens, fitted 5,500 hearing aids and attended to 35,000 patients via an open access drop-in clinic at Southport Hospital.

College Open Evening

WEST Lancashire College is holding its next Open Evening on Wednesday, October 19 from 4.30 to 7.30pm at the Skelmersdale campus in College Way.

The college, which has plans for a new technology centre due to open in 2017, offers a wide range of courses to suit various age groups and requirements.

Their courses include BTECs, technical skills qualifications, apprenticeships, Foundation degrees, traineeships and professional courses.

A spokeswoman for the college said: "Open Evenings are a fantastic opportunity to visit the college and see the facilities for yourself.

"These include the realistic working environments, including our brand new training restaurant, The Works, home to our Chefs Academy. There is also the Francesco Graduate Salon, featuring hair, beauty and holistic salons, and the Beacon Day Care Ward used by learners studying in our Centre of Excellence for Nursing, Midwifery and Social Care, plus the sports hall and rehabilitation room, home to our Sports Academy."

Those attending the Open Evening will be able to meet the industry expert tutors and receive professional careers advice and guidance from the Matrix Accredited Student Services team.

There is also the chance to apply for live apprenticeship vacancies, learn about the extensive enrichment programme, view classroom displays and hear from learners currently on study programmes at the college.

County council hosts information event for would-be adopters

Authority seeks loving homes for children unable to live with their birth families

LANCASHIRE County Council is inviting people interested in adoption to a special information event on Wednesday, October 19.

This will be held at County Hall, Fishwergate, Preston, from 6 to 7.30pmpm, and will enable visitors to learn more about adoption and the process involved.

There is no need to book, you can just turn up, but early arrival is recommended so that the presentation can start promptly. People attending are also asked to stay for the whole session.

Free parking is available and there is accessible entrance for disabled visitors.

The council is focussing on two different types of adoption with the aim of enabling more babies and young children to go to live with their permanent family quicker.

Concurrent placements place babies and young children, aged up to two, with foster carers who may go on to give them a permanent home; while the fostering-for-adoption scheme is for children of any age where there is no realistic prospect of a return to their birth family.

County Councillor Matthew Tomlinson, Lancashire's cabinet member for children, young people and schools, said: "We're looking for people from all backgrounds to offer a permanent home and family to children who are not able to live with their birth family. What matters to us are your personal qualities and that you are able to provide a loving home where you can support and look after a child throughout their childhood and beyond.

"More children in Lancashire are benefiting from an earlier start in life with their adoptive families thanks to these programmes.

Loving homes sought for children

"Sometimes babies come into our care at birth or soon after, and they're looked after by foster carers, while we work with their parents to see if they can go home. If this isn't possible, the court process can take many months, and after that the baby usually has to move again, to their adoptive parents."

Concurrent placements place a baby or child straight away with their prospective adopters, who are also approved as foster carers, while the birth family is assessed and the court makes a decision.

Foster-for-adoption carers are approved as temporary foster carers, but are prepared to adopt the child - if it is eventually decided that they can't return to their birth family.

Seven children adopted in Lancashire over the past year (April 2015 to March 2016) were placed successfully under the concurrent placements scheme, and six through fostering-for-adoption.

To adopt, you must be over 21 and live in Lancashire or close by. There are no restrictions regarding race, gender or sexuality.

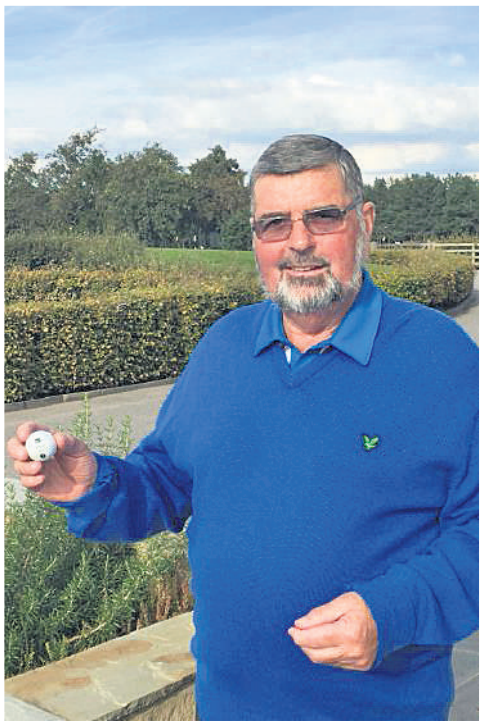
Keen golfer records his first hole in one after 25 years of playing!



Peter with the ball he used to record his first hole in one after 25 years playing golf

KEEN golfer Peter O'Brien was the toast of Hurlston Golf Club after recording his first hole in one - after 25 years of trying!

Peter, who has been a member of the Scarisbrick club for seven years, was playing the 133-yard par-three second hole when he notched his ace.

Accompanied by playing partners Nick Lewis, Steve Dix and Steve Hart, Peter took his driver off the tee on a dry and windy day.

After making good contact he bent down to pick up his tee and, after being alerted by his pals, stood up just in time to see his ball disappear down the hole for his long-awaited ace.

Awards recognition for Rebecca's 'Pink Army'

A WEST Lancashire College project which saw 33 previously 'inactive' students complete a 5-kilometre run for charity has been named runner-up in a county-wide awards scheme.

The college's Sport England enrichment co-ordinator Rebecca Connick was invited to attend the England Athletics North West Awards at Bolton Golf Club after being nominated by the Lancashire Sport partnership for Project of the Year.

The nomination recognised Rebecca's role in organising a female-only Sportivate Project which saw 33 inactive students complete the Race for Life at Aintree Racecourse.

Students from all departments participated in the project which was funded by Lancashire Sport as part of the national This Girl Can campaign aimed at 'getting people active, keeping people moving and improving people's lives'.

Rebecca arranged flexible training sessions over a six-week period and formed her 'Pink Army' with the shared goal of completing the 5K Race4Life.

Students were rewarded with a free Race for Life T-shirt on completion of six training sessions ensuring the Pink Army had a 'uniform' for the event where they raised more than £800 for Cancer Research - as well as making more friends across the campus.

After being named runner-up in the Project of the Year award, Rebecca said: "I am delighted that our project has been recognised. The girls did a fantastic job committing to weekly training sessions and raising such a large sum of money. I am very proud of them all!"

A representative from Lancashire Sport commented: "Lancashire Sport Partnership were pleased to support the West Lancashire College Race4Life Sportivate project. The project was a huge success and enabled 33 inactive young women from West Lancashire College to become more active.

"We hope that female students and staff involved in this event will be encouraged to participate in more sport and physical activity making this a positive change for life."

Reminder that help with mental health issues is just a phone call away

OFFICIALS at Lancashire Care NHS Foundation Trust's Wellbeing and Mental Health Helpline are aiming to raise awareness and highlight the importance of good mental health reminding in support of World Mental Health Day on Monday (October 10).

The helpline provides a listening ear for anyone feeling isolated, low or suffering from mental health problems.

It also provides support to callers suffering from domestic violence, eating disorders or sleeping difficulties.

The helpline can be contacted on 0800 915 4640 and is open Monday to Friday 7 to 11pm and Saturday and Sunday from noon to midnight.

Perri McGovern, from the Wellbeing and Mental Health Helpline at the trust, said: "We want to remind people that having good mental health is just as important as good physical health.

"There is so much stigma surrounding mental health and we want people to get in touch with us so that we can combat this.

"World Mental Health Day is a great opportunity for us to talk about the work we do and encourage all those people out there that there is no better time to open up and talk."

The helpline deals with an array of people from different backgrounds all facing problems they feel unable to deal with.

Most callers are those who are concerned about their mental health and just need someone to talk to.

OCD sufferers urged to seek support from care trust's Mindsmatter team

Report by Henry James

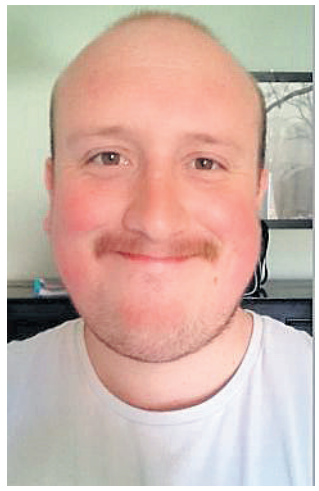
LANCASHIRE Care NHS Foundation Trust's Mindsmatter Service is encouraging people living with Obsessive Compulsive Disorder (OCD) to self-refer to the service to access psychological therapies and support.

To mark OCD Awareness Week (October 9 to 16), the Mindsmatter service is reminding people of the psychological talking therapies and therapeutic support they provide.

OCD is an anxiety-related condition where a person experiences frequent intrusive and unwelcome obsessional thoughts, often followed by repetitive compulsions, impulses or urges.

Based on an estimate of the UK population, there are potentially more than 740,000 living with OCD at one time.

Mindsmatter provide support for those aged 16 and over who are experiencing common mental health problems such as stress, depression and anxiety. The service provides access to a variety of therapies including cognitive behavioural therapy (CBT), stress control workshops and counselling, as well as online CBT from SilverCloud.



Christopher Bould has seen his life changed for the better thanks to the Mindsmatter service

Mindsmatter service user, Christopher Bould, said: "I have suffered with OCD for around 15 years. I decided to refer in to the service as my OCD was taking over my life.

"Once I had completed my referral I was contacted by someone in the team who was so understanding and filled me with the confidence I needed to talk openly about how I was feeling.

Helped

"To ease me in to my course of cognitive behavioural therapy I started with some CBT self-help books, these really helped me to understand the disorder and also how my mind works.

"Referring in to the Mindsmatter service has completely changed my life and despite finishing my course I am still applying everything I learned today. People shouldn't feel embarrassed about OCD, you are not alone and I realise now it is much better to talk."

The service can be accessed via the online referral form, by post, telephone or by visiting your GP. For more information about your local Mindsmatter service and to access their online self-referral form go to www.lancashirecare.nhs.uk/Mindsmatter.

Charity shop manager's appeal for donations

THE manager of a charity shop in Ormskirk is calling for locals to hand in any unwanted items to their Big Bag Challenge, which is running throughout October.

Susan Abbott, who runs the Age UK shop on Burscough Street, is urging West Lancs residents to donate unwanted clothing, shoes, books, accessories and homewares, all of which are sold on to be loved again.

Age UK has more than 400 shops across the country which generate much-needed funds for the charity's work with older people, which includes providing companionship, support and advice, as well as its national advice line, which is open every day, and campaigning work.

Susan said: "Taking part in The Big Bag Challenge couldn't be easier, which is why we're asking everyone in West Lancs to get involved. Simply donate at least one bag of quality items you no longer need to our Age UK shop. With your help we can continue to support older people in the local area and across the country."

Wolf whistling is a 'hate crime' but lewd TV ads are OK!

A VERY good friend of mine, now sadly deceased, had a 'thing' about Joanna Lumley. He simply adored her.

I could understand why, she is still a very attractive woman. And now she has proved what I always suspected, she is a very intelligent woman as well.

Ms Lumley was last week reported to have said that wolf whistles were saying simply "Cor, you look all right darlin' – and what's wrong with that?" Well, to my mind there is absolutely nothing wrong with that.

She also accused those who get stroppy about such innocent expressions of admiration as "sensitive flowers" following an announcement by Nottinghamshire Police that wolf whistles could be deemed a hate crime. What on earth is happening to us?

I grew up in a generation where such things as wolf whistles could almost be received as a badge of honour, and beauty contests such as Miss Universe were a bit of innocent fun (which no-one was forced either to participate in or for that matter to watch).

But, of course, Joanna Lumley has missed the point to a degree. Because even if wolf whistles were deemed acceptable, telling any woman these days that she looks attractive certainly is not. Why I simply can't understand.

Now it is categorised as demeaning to women if a man holds a door open for a woman, or offers her a seat on a bus. I was brought up to believe such things were simply good manners and a matter of respect.

Returning to Ms Lumley's premise that there is nothing wrong with saying that a woman is looking particularly attractive, she is absolutely right but has only uncovered the tip of an iceberg. For years now it has thoroughly mystified me that mini-skirted females should take exception if a man then looks at her (hopefully) shapely legs. Why on earth would anyone wear a mini-skirt, certainly on a cold winter's day, if she didn't want folk to see and admire?

And before someone starts on about changing attitudes etc., yes, I am only too aware of those. I hope I am not alone in being absolutely disgusted at those Money Supermarket adverts which poison our TV screens at the moment.

I am not homophobic but if an advert were made showing a straight couple engaged in such lewd and suggestive antics I am absolutely certain it would (and should) be banned. Whatever strange moral code allows the Money Supermarket ad to be shown, but reckons wolf whistling should be a hate crime I, for one, don't want to sign up to it.

I suppose I have rammed my head far enough into several nooses, so now for something completely different. According to a TV news programme recently, funding for the NHS has flat-lined in real terms for the last five years and will continue to do so.

One solution put forward is for the Government to introduce an 'NHS tax' but opponents to this think, quite rightly in my view, that this is against the whole spirit of the NHS in the first place.

It strikes me that there is one obvious and easy way of securing a whole heap of extra cash for the beleaguered NHS though. Given that successive governments have raised the tax on tobacco products ostensibly at least to cut down the damage that smoking does to us and the cost to the NHS (though this is a canard – more is raised by taking money from smokers than the NHS receives anyway) why not divert the cash raised by taxing us smokers direct to the NHS?

Not only would this totally cure the NHS deficit, but at the same time it would still have the effect of deterring smoking in the first place!

Mere's new mascot makes his public debut at school

MARTIN Mere's new mascot Dusty Duck made his first 'public appearance' when he joined the wildfowl and wetlands trust's Hilary Ambrose on a visit to Burscough Village Primary School.

The pair gave a presentation to Year 1 and 2 pupils at the school in Colburne Close on the preservation work that the Mere staff do.

Deputy headteacher, Helen Crowder said: "The children loved listening to the story of Dusty the Duck, which linked in with their work on the seasons and baby animals. We felt privileged to be the first school to meet Dusty!"

Chris Whitehead from Martin Meree said "We'd like to thank Burscough Village Primary for allowing Dusty Duck to visit the schoo and hosting his 'début'."

Fibre Fest set to return

THE fifth annual Burscough Fibre Fest is set to be held on Sunday, October 30.

The event - described as a celebration of fibres, knitting and crocheting - is organised by Carole and Colin Wareing, owners of travelling wool shop, the Wool Boat.

It will run from 10am to 4pm at The Grove Community and Activity Centre on Station Approach.

Carole Wareing said: "This year we are welcoming a wide range of knitting and crafting yarns producers and sellers, including local commercial yarn retailers, independent spinners and dyers, crafters selling their finished garments and a chap from Staffordshire with a range of hand-made ceramic buttons.

"But there is still time for fibre artists out there to rise to the challenge of creating something from fibre on the theme of Halloween - whatever your choice of medium - and bring it to festival from 10am on the day, ready for judging between 3 and 3.30pm.

"There will be a number of prizes up to be claimed, from gift vouchers from yarn retailers to skeins of yarn from exhibitors."

Fibre Owl winner Alison Meadley receiving her Wool Boat gift voucher prize from event organiser Colin Wareing at last year's festival

Entry to the event costs £1 per person, with accompanied under-14s free.

For more information ring Carole or Colin on 07931 356204 or visit thewoolboat.co.uk.

Respiratory specialist nurse gives talk to Breathe Easy group

RESPIRATORY nurse specialist with Southport and Ormskirk hospitals, Pat Fairclough, was guest speaker at the latest meeting of the West Lancs and Southport Breathe Easy group.

Her visit coincided with the British Lung Foundation's Idiopathic Pulmonary Fibrosis Week (IPF) and the condition was the subject of her talk.

IPF is the most common form of interstitial lung disease, affecting the lace-like network of tissue - the interstitium - which supports the air sacs, the alveoli.

It is caused when inflammation builds up and the lungs become stiff and hard resulting in a fibrous build-up that makes it very difficult for the lungs to take in oxygen.

More than 32,000 people in the UK suffer with IPF with about 5,000 new cases diagnosed each year, mostly in people of middle age or older.

Patricia Ireland from the Breathe Easy group said: "The problem seems to affect more men than women and although one exact cause cannot be isolated, it does seem to have an occupational link to those who have been exposed to metals, dust, textiles, farming and the like, while smoking and genetics are likely other causative factors.

"Pat Fairclough's power point presentation took her audience through the symptoms of IPF, the diagnostic tests and types of treatment.

"Symptoms include the usual unpleasant shortness of breath, coughing and attendant tiredness, while tests include spirometry, x-rays, scans, bronchoscopy and biopsy.

"Unfortunately there is, as yet, no 'cure', but there has apparently been a huge improvement in treatment in recent years and the right care can help people feel better and improve their quality of life."

Pat Fairclough also emphasised the help available to patients in West Lancs and Southport through the respiratory nurse service at both local hospitals.

During the question session which followed her talk Pat was asked about the current craze for vaping and replied that health care professionals could not give their approval to the habit.

Next meeting of the group will be on Monday, October 17, starting at 11am at the Green Lane Girl Guide HQ in Ormskirk when the guest speaker will be the respiratory consultant, Dr. S. Youzguin, from Southport Hospital.

Late doctor's son to give online presentation about cancer via Facebook

THE son of a respected, long-serving Ormskirk GP who died in June aged 75 after battling cancer, is to give an hour-long online presentation entitled 'I lost my dad to cancer, I don't want you to lose yours' .

Sushant Varma, whose late dad, Dr Akhilesh Kumar Varma, practised at the town's Stanley Street surgery for 30 years before retiring in 2007, will give his presentation via social media site Facebook from 9.15pm on Thursday (October 13).

The late Dr Akhilesh Kumar Varma who practised in Ormskirk for more than 30 years

'Wonderful'

Mr Varma said: "Statistically speaking one in three of us will be affected by cancer. That means that at some stage of your life you, or someone close to you, will need the services of the wonderful people from the Macmillan nurses."

To watch the online presentation, sign up to follow the Feel Good Complimentary Therapy Centre on Facebook.

Meanwhile, a fundraiser organised by the Varma family at the Feel Good Centre in Knowsley Road, as part of the Macmillan 'World's Biggest Coffee Morning' event raised £80 for the cancer charity.

Mr Varma commented: "In my dad's case the Macmillan nurses and the palliative care team were wonderful. They made his last days a lot easier and they certainly eased the burden on my mother enormously so it meant a lot to us to raise funds for the wonderful Macmillan nurses."

Doctor's talk on ghostly goings-on in aid of hospice

by Danielle Thompson

A SEMI-retired doctor who has spent more that 50 years investigating ghostly sightings on Halsall Moss is set to give a chilling talk on what he has uncovered to raise funds for charity.

Dr Rob Gandy, former director of planning at Fazakerley Hospital, was first intrigued when he was told of a spooky sighting of a hitch-hiker, experienced by a colleague in February or March 1965.

He was driving over Halsall Moss late at night on a Friday from Southport heading in the direction of Ormskirk when a figure appeared in the back seat of his Mini.

However, when he pulled up and got out of the car, the man, who looked to be aged in his 70s, was gone.

Since then, Dr Gandy, who lives on the Wirral, has been told of similar visions on the same road of the same figure by friends and colleagues from across Southport and West Lancashire

Now, he will be talking about his investigation on Tuesday, November 8 at Southport and Birkdale Sports Club in Trafalgar Road to raise funds for Queenscourt Hospice in Southport, which treats patients with terminal or life-limiting conditions from across Sefton and West Lancashire.

The spooky sightings were all reported to have been seen on Halsall Moss

Rob Gandy told the Champion: "The ghostly phenomenon has intrigued me for a long time and I have heard many first-hand accounts by people who have experienced it. I am very excited to talk to people about the phenomenon, I have done a lot of work on it and it's really interesting.

"I used to work in the health service and while I was working for the Southport and Ormskirk NHS Trust during the 1990s, I was the cancer services development manager for the North West. Through this, I got very involved with end-of-life services and referred many patients to the incredible Queenscourt Hospice, which provides the very best care. I am holding the talk to raise funds for this amazing cause."

Dr Gandy's spooky story was first published in a Winter 1990 issue of The Fortean Times, an independent publication which explores unique phenomena including far-out theories and beliefs.

Tickets for the talk, which starts at 7.30pm, can be bought online at queenscourt.org.uk or by calling 01704 517420. They cost £5 if bought in advance or £6 on the door.

Cricket club seek to recruit more visually impaired players

The visually impaired team

OFFICIALS of a West Lancashire-based cricket club are seeking to recruit more visually impaired and disabled players.

Mawdesley Cricket Club plan to hold indoor coaching sessions over the autumn and winter months and want people to come forward following the club's first season of fielding a visually impaired team.

That initial season came to a close with the final game against a Cheshire Cobras team.

The game was played in glorious sunshine at Rectory Field with the home team winning the toss and electing to bat.

The Mawdesley team, made up of the club's visually impaired coaches and players from Galloway's Society for the Blind, made 149 runs from their 30 overs.

They then bowled well to put pressure on the classy Cheshire Cobras who were never able to get comfortably ahead of the run rate.

The game went into a nail-biting final over before the Cheshire Cobras claimed victory on the penultimate ball of the game.

Martin Trengove from Mawdesley Cricket Club said: "The game was played in great spirit and congratulations are due to all who took part in demonstrating that visual impairment is no barrier to fully enjoying the sport."

Anyone requiring more details can check out the Galloway's website or the Mawdesley Cricket Club; or contact James Coulton at Galloway's on 01772 744148, or Martin Trengove at Mawdesley Cricket Club on 01704 821023.

You can also view a short film about the work done at MawdesleyCC with Galloway's on YouTube.

County agrees next steps in process of handing over buildings to community groups

LANCASHIRE County Council's Cabinet has agreed the next steps in the process of handing over surplus buildings to be run by community groups.

The county council recently agreed its Property Strategy to reduce the number of buildings it owns and rents and form a network of multi-functional Neighbourhood Centres, which will provide a base for a range of different services in one place.

The process included the decision to close three libraries in West Lancashire at Up Holland, Burscough and Parbold, while children's centres and day centres for older people in the borough are also to close.

As part of the consultation process for the strategy there was an opportunity for community groups to submit interest in taking over the running of surplus properties.

All organisations who expressed an interest were provided with detailed property information, including running costs, and had until mid-August to supply a detailed business case to support what is called a community asset transfer.

A total of 119 expressions of interest were submitted which led to 49 detailed business cases. Those business cases were assessed against the criteria in the council's Community Asset Transfer Policy and divided into three categories.

In the first category, 13 bids were considered to be broadly acceptable subject to negotiation and clarification of issues.

A total of 20 bids were adjudged to require more details to be provided before a clear recommendation can be made and 16 bids were not considered to be acceptable.

The bids in the final category were ruled out for a variety of reasons. Some related to properties that the county council intends to retain; some were commercial in nature; some were of limited community benefit; and some had not proposed a sustainable business case.

Cabinet agreed that for those business cases considered to be broadly acceptable, individual reports will be presented to the deputy leader of the county council, Councillor David Borrow for decision.

Cllr. Borrow said: " Through the property review we have done all we can to ensure that people still have good access to good services while delivering millions of pounds of savings.

"We know that we have strong communities across the county and the willingness of local groups to step up and offer to take over the running of buildings that we no longer need is further proof of that strength.

"In line with our community asset transfer policy, we need to work with these groups to make sure that we are handing over these valuable assets to groups which have a sustainable business plan that will benefit the local community. I'm pleased that we have taken another step towards making that a reality."

Let's hear it for Lancashire Day! say friends group

Support urged for Red Rose County celebrations

MEMBERS of the Friends of Lancashire group are busy planning their annual list of events ahead of Lancashire Day next month.

The group want people, community groups and schools from West Lancashire to let them know of any events they would like to hold in honour of the Red Rose county which takes place on the week of November 27.

A spokesperson for the Friends of Lancashire said: "We want to hear from people who have planned an event to take place on the day or during that week.

"As well as showing loyalty to our Red Rose county, Lancashire Day is an opportunity to raise money for charity and for businesses to promote Lancashire produce.

"At the beginning of November, events are posted on our website, www.forl.co.uk.

"Events usually include Lancashire Day proclamations, Lancashire nights with traditional beer, hot pot and entertainment, lunches, afternoon teas, shops with Lancashire produce, restaurants with a special Lancashire menu, exhibitions, heritage walks, quiz nights and reading of Lancashire dialect.

"Remember, if you were born between the River Duddon in the north and the River Mersey in the south you are first and foremost a Lancastrian!

"Please email your events with full details and telephone contact number to;chairman@forl.co.uk."

Queenscourt staff in bid to raise awareness of their 'special work'

Report by Ollie Cowan

The Queenscourt Hospice senior care team

QUEENSCOURT Hospice staff have been busy raising awareness of the their work as part of National Hospice Week.

And they are keen to mark the week by banishing the misconceptions around how and who can use a hospice – saying that it is not, in fact, a place where people go to die but a service that offers a better quality of life.

To coincide with the week, and help raise awareness of the special kind of care given at over 220 hospices across the UK, Helen Birch, director of clinical services at Queenscourt, has been speaking to people to tell them just what hospice care really means to local patients with life-limiting illnesses.

Helen said: "We believe no-one should face a life-limiting illness alone. We do all we can for those in our care and understand the importance of personal choice, independence and dignity during these potentially challenging times.

"The special kind of care we give is about living, making every moment count and creating memories."

Shirley Mason, a former volunteer and long term supporter of Queenscourt, experienced first-hand the difference a hospice can make. In 1998 her friend June was diagnosed with incurable lung cancer. June didn't have any family locally and had become frail and needed support to improve her symptoms but was adamant that she didn't want to be "written off" and "sent to a hospice."

Shirley said: "It took a lot to get June to come to Queenscourt but I remember so well the change in her when she finally gave in - she wasn't frightened anymore and felt safe.

"She also wanted to know why I didn't tell her it was like staying in a luxury hotel where everything she needed was taken care of! I don't know how many people actually realise what you do. I didn't know myself until I got involved. It's wonderful and I feel proud to be part of something so special."

Helen added: "Less than a quarter of our funding comes from the NHS, for the rest we rely upon the kindness of our supporters. We depend upon donations of time and money from our local community.

"Every penny that is donated really does make a difference.

"Queenscourt cares for adults from the age of eighteen years, there is no upper age limit and we care for people of all religious denominations without exception."

Hedges are a thorn in our sides, say Aughton residents

Some of the overgrown hedges in Aughton which have angered residents

ANGRY Aughton residents have raised concerns about overgrown hedges on the A59, saying that they are obscuring traffic and making it difficult to drive.

The shrubbery along a section of the busy road along Holborn Hill near to the Women's Institute hut, has been overgrown for weeks, they say.

Lancs county Council told the Champion that they are in the process of tracking down the owner of the private land to ask them to cut them back – failing this, the council will cut them before sending a bill to the owners.

Jim Kelly, Lancashire County Council area highways manager for West Lancashire, said: "After receiving a complaint that people were struggling to use the footway along this section of road due to hedges being overgrown, we have contacted the landowners responsible for the land to ask them to cut the hedges back.

"One of the landowners has now cut their hedges back, but initially we could not find a contact for the owner of the land near the hut, which is why we posted the notice. Local people have responded to this and called to advise who this land belongs to and we are now trying to contact them.

"If privately owned hedges are causing a problem we have to follow a legal procedure which gives a landowner reasonable opportunity to cut them back, but if they do not respond we can then do it ourselves and send them the bill."

Emma and Lee Graham with their son Theo and characters Peppa and Chase at the event

Family fun day raises over £500 for life saving baby unit

By Danielle Thompson

THE FAMILY of a three year old who defied the odds to survive being born 10 weeks early have raised more than £560 for the baby unit that treated him.

Emma and Lee Graham, from Formby, started fundraising for the Neonatal Unit at Ormskirk Hospital after their son Theo was born almost three months prematurely weighing just 2lb 8oz - less than a bag of sugar - in October 2012 and was treated there for the vulnerable first 10 weeks of his life.

The family held a Baby, Toddler and Children's Event at the Activity Centre behind the Gild Hall on Church Road in Formby – and hope to raise £500 towards their new fundraising aim of reaching £1,500 before Christmas.

As well as stalls selling new and second-hand children's items, there were also a Peppa Pig and a Paw Patrol Character impersonators, face-painting and games including mini-golf, beat the goalie, tombola, hook-a-duck, a raffle and refreshments.

The Unit needs 12 new incubators, which cost around £15,000 each and 12 new monitors, which cost around £7,000.

Michelle is applauded onto the pitch for her last game before becoming a paramedic

Physio given warm send-off

SKELMERSDALE United bid a fond farewell to long-serving club physiotherapist, Michelle Scott, who served her final match last weekend against Warrington.

Michelle has been with the club for more than eight years and has been a valuable member of the coaching team.

She leaves to take up training as a paramedic.

Manager Tommy Lawson said: "The biggest compliment I can give her is that she has been accepted in the dressing room as one of the boys.

"She has been an extremely valuable member of the team and her efforts have been appreciated by us all, I wish her all the best, I am sure she will always be welcome at Skelmersdale anytime she wants come down."

Michelle was presented with flowers before last Saturday's match.

Skem score four to end rotten run of form in style

Report by Neil Leatherbarrow

Skelmersdale United 4
Warrington Town 0

SKELMERSDALE ended a run of three losses in empathic fashion after hitting four past in-form Warrington.

The Wiremen arrived in Skem in the hope of climbing up to third in the table with a win but these hopes were dashed by an impressive display from the home side.

Skelmersdale were playing at a tempo that Warrington were struggling match, the hosts first to every ball and pouncing on anything that dropped loose.

It was almost inevitable something was going to occur and it did on 19 minutes when Benito Lowe sprinted in from midfield and sent a stunning drive past the keeper.

Skem doubled their lead through an goalkeeping error. Ince swung in a corner from the right and the keeper seemed to gather the ball then let it slip over the line.

He tried to hook it clear but the referee's assistant ruled that it had crossed the goal-line and it was 2-0.

On 67 minutes Skelmersdale made a difficult task for Warrington almost an impossible one when Paul Woolcott struck to make it 3-0. By now Warrington were becoming frustrated, Strickland and his fellow defenders were absolutely dominant. Mahoney put a shot just wide for Skem and after Ince held the ball up Wall was only thwarted by a tremendous tackle by Wylie. On 87 minutes, Mahoney carried the ball toward Warrington, and then he cleverly put Ince one on one with Wills, the energetic midfielder netting joyously, making it 4-0.

Without doubt it was Skelmersdale's best performance of the season.

Warrington's keeper can't prevent the ball from crossing the line for Skem's second goal. Picture by John Driscoll

Period drama to be club's next play

SOUTHPORT Dramatic Club has chosen Ladies in Lavender for their October play.

Directed by Robin Hirsch, this is a tender period drama based on the classic 2005 film. It was recently a successful touring stage play featuring Hayley Mills.

When sisters Ursula and Janet discover a handsome young man washed ashore on the local beach, little do they realise how his presence will disrupt their peaceful lives and their quiet Cornish community.

Ann Richards and Celia Timmington star as the ladies, Janet and Ursula, played by Maggie Smith and Judi Dench respectively in the film. The rest of the cast includes Cate Leight (Olga), Trudi Hirsch (Dorcas), Brendan Gillow (Dr. Mead) and Richard Michell, who recently appeared in the SDC Youth Theatre production of Our Day Out, plays Andrea.

The show runs from Friday, October 21 to Saturday, October 29 at The Little Theatre, Hoghton Street, Southport. Tickets are obtainable from the Box Office. Tel. 01704 530521/530460.

Win tickets to see Twopence

FOLLOWING a successful 2015 Merseyside tour, Twopence to Cross the Mersey is back and will be returning to Southport theatre from October 24 – 27 and the Champion has three pairs of tickets to give away.

The smash-hit play, based on the best-selling autobiography, Helen Forrester's Twopence to Cross the Mersey opened at Liverpool's Royal Court in September.

There are just two changes to the line-up who generated rave reviews when the show enjoyed a successful six-week tour in Spring 2015. The cast now features actors Phil Hearne and Tom Cawte as part of the eight-strong ensemble cast.

Phil Hearne will play a variety of roles in Twopence. He was part of the West End cast for Blood Brothers, and his television credits include Coronation Street.

Tom Cawte brings a wealth of experience to the role of Alan, Helen's younger brother. His theatre credits include the 2015 national tour of The Lone Pine Club and Boys of the Empire Production Sandel at the Edinburgh Fringe in 2013. Film and television credits include the upcoming BBC series Witless and London Fields.

The line-up sees the return ofEmma Dears (Judy & Liza, Les Miserables) as Mother; Christopher Jordan (Moving On, Coronation Street) as Father; Maria Lovelady as Helen; and together with Tom Cawte as Alan, they make up the Forrester family.

Eithne Browne (Brookside, Brick Up The Mersey Tunnel); Jake Abraham (Lock Stock and Two Smoking Barrels, Game of Thrones); Roy Carruthers (Night Collar, Tales from Haunted Liverpool); and Phil Hearne all take on lead roles, as well as supplementary characters throughout.

Helen Forrester's Twopence to Cross the Mersey tells the true story of a young girl and her formerly wealthy family as they are suddenly thrown into poverty during the Great Depression of the 1930s. Leaving behind the nannies, servants and comfortable middle-class life in the South West of England, they uproot their shattered lives and choose Liverpool as the place to start again to rebuild their dreams and fortune. Unbeknown to them however, a terrible shock awaits them.

The play is staged by Pulse Records Ltd

To be in with a chance to win the tickets to Twopence to Cross the Mersey answer this question, who wrote Twopence to Cross the Mersey? Answers to Champion newspapers, Clare House, 166 Lord Street, Southport, PR9 OQA. The closing date is Thursday, October 20 at 12 noon. The tickets are for the performance on Monday, October 24.

A luxury saloon that doesn't leave you weeping at petrol stations...

Life On Cars
DAVID SIMISTER
www.lifeoncars.co.uk

I WAS wondering which Liverpool player was going to step out when the black S-Class pulled up alongside me. Or perhaps it was a leading light of the criminal word, dispatched to assassinate me for something unsavoury I'd written in the Champion years earlier.

But actually it was one of the freelance photographers I work with, and he was very pleased because this enormous luxury saloon with electric everything and an AMG sports pack really was his. Not only that, but it transpired the whole thing had set him back what an entry-level Ford Focus costs.

As cars go it really is phenomenal value. The equivalent diesel V6 model today will set you back the thick end of seventy grand, meaning this one has lost more than two thirds of its value in just eight years. It's the sort of hefty depreciation that'll make its original managing director owner wince, but look at it from a buyer's perspective and it's a no-brainer. For £16,000 you can't buy the cheapest new car Mercedes-Benz makes, but you can buy a barely run-in S-Class with everything still working.

It's not just misunderstood Mercedes models, either. For the same sort of money you can have a BMW 730D with a full service history and 39,000 miles on the clock – not bad, considering all it'll get you new is a top of the range Polo. How about a Jaguar XJ with the 2.7-litre diesel V6? Again, could be yours for an Astra-sized outlay.

Yes, I know they'll be more expensive to tax, insure and service than a family hatchback, but at least with them being the diesel versions you won't be left weeping inconsolably every time you pull into a branch of Shell or BP. Nor are they the sort of automotive antiques I normally deal with - even at this sort of money they're all fully working cars with plenty of life left in them, gadgets that sync up with your iPhone and seats that massage your buttocks on motorway slogs. It's worth bearing in mind next time you're thinking of venturing out and buying a new car – for the same sort of money you can have a low mileage S-Class, a barely used BMW or a just run-in Jaguar.

Suddenly the snob factor of having a 66-plate on your front bumper isn't so impressive. Although you will get Champion journalists cowering everytime you drive past, thinking their number's up.

You can have all this for less than the price of a new Ford Focus

Linnets dumped out of FA Trophy by Kendal Town despite late rally

Burscough 1
Kendal Town 2

BURSCOUGH were knocked out of the FA Trophy after failing to find an equaliser despite a late rally.

The Linnets managed to hold off Kendal until the 73rd minute when Wood opened the scoring.

The match looked to be over on 83 minutes when Bowman doubled the away side's lead, but Burscough rallied and gave themselves a chance when Shacklock struck with two minutes remaining on the clock. But the home side couldn't find a second goal and were dumped out of the competition.

Next up for Burscough is a home match this Saturday against Glossop North End.

Skem face two tricky away tests after impressive home victory

By Neil Leatherbarrow

AFTER Saturday's impressive 4-0 win against Warrington, manager Tommy Lawson's men now face two tricky away games over the next week.

One of the away encounters was due to take place last night (Tuesday) when they were set to play Spennymoor Town.

The second away match is this Saturday against Ilkeston, which the Skem side will be quitelyconfidentof getting a good result.

Next Tuesday (October 18) they are at home to Whitby Town when theymake the long trip over from East Yorkshire for a 7.45pm kick off. Games against Whitby are usually good footballing encounters.

And the team from Captain Cook's home town have made a good start to the season, sitting on the tails of the promotion candidates.

Meanwhile, Tommy Lawson made one addition to his squad late last week when he signed Alex Davies from local rivals Marine.

The 20 year old right-sided player had been at College Road for around 18 months after signing from Widnes Vikings.

He went straight into the team for the Warrington game and made an immediate good impression.

Maghull through in county cup

Richmond Rovers 1
Maghull 2

MAGHULL progressed to the last sixteen of the Liverpool County FA Challenge Cup at fellow Carlsberg West Cheshire League side Richmond Raith Rovers in round two of the competition last Saturday.

The final scoreline never reflected the amount of goalscoring chances Maghull created on the artificial surface and it was strikes from Steve Williams and Jordan Stafford that eventually saw Joe Burns' side safely through to their fifth victory in six games.

Maghull are again on their travels on Saturday when they travel to Helsby for a Carlsberg West Cheshire First Division encounter.
